THE Nodaway Democrat says the barn of Capt. J. W. Short, living in Lincoln township, was burned a few days ago .-It caught fire at night, and by what means the Captain cannot tell. THE Illustrated Journal of Agriculture, published by V. & J. S. Marmaduke, St. Louis, Mo., is again before us. This is the July number of this handsome monthly. We are puzzled to understand how this expensive publication is sent for so small a price. The paper on which it is printed is the best character of tinted book. The engravings are numerous, many of them large. We are glad to know of its success. It is elevating and refin-ing in its influence, and will do good to any family in whose house it is a visitor. Farmers will find it partic-ularly valuable to them, as agriculture is the subject to which it is devoted.

The Coming Fair.

We learn from the best authority that this noble institution, of which St. Louis has so good a right to be proud, has the best assurance of a really grand exposition in October, 1872. At this early day entries of fine stock and of different production of art and agriculture are being made, and the management of the Fair Association are preparing to meet every demand that may be made upon them in the way of accommodating exhibitors.— The premium list amounts to $10,000, and will be raised to a much larger sum by private offers. The range of premiume is much wider, the time is lengthened to nine days, and we may reasonably anticipate the grandest fair ever held in America.

A new and interesting feature in the coming exhibition, will be the competition between county and other Fair Associations, for the pri-zes awarded to the best collections or samples of fruit, grain, vegetables, Temperance Festival.

Republican Meeting at Fillmore

FILLMORE, Mo., July 20. MR. EDITOR-In accordance with notice previously given, the citizens of Fillmore and vicinity met at the seminary this evening, for the purose of ratifying the nominations of U. S. Grant for President and Henry Wilson for Vice President. The house was well filled, there not being a vacant seat. And one thing of which our village is proud: the ladies are not afraid to give countenance and support to our meeting .-We noticed a goodly number of them in attendance and were glad to have them with us in this, as they always are in the right. The meeting was called to order by

Esq. Chittenden, and Silas E. Seeley elected Chairman, and Jabe Pow was elected Chairman, and Jabe Powell Secretary. It being known that some gentlemen were expected to address the meeting, G. T. Bryan was called upon, who, being introduced by the chairman, gave a few pertinent remarks relative to the political history of the two candidates for President, and quoted somewhat from II. G.'s record, as published in the Tribune in 1860 and 1861, and during the war, showing the fanaticism and inwar, showing the fanaticism and in-consistency of the hard-headed farmer. Upon the close of his speech, Col. Wilkinson was introduced to the audience, and, although pleading in-disposition was peculiarly happy in his speech, showing up the difference between the two candidates, in all the different phases, and giving some very hoice illustrations of the difference between the candidates for the Presi-idency and Vice Presidency.

At the close of his remarks, Mr. Frodsham was called upon and re-sponded in a very brief speech, cu-couraging the Republicans to put forth every effort during the campaign.

No other person wishing or offering to talk any more, it was moved by F. Knickerbacker that a Grant and Wilson Club be organized. Moved themselves as members of the Club. A. L. Dodge, F. Knickerbacker and Jabe Powell were appointed. Upon their reporting it was found that 94 members had joined to form the Club. It was moved that N. Polk be the resident of the Club, and he was duly elected. It was then moved that two Vice Presidents be elected. J. G. Honnold inquired if the ladies would be permitted to hold office in the Club. Decided in the rffirmative by the chairman. Mrs. A. L. Chittenden and Mr. W. B. Riley were then elected as Vice Presidents. Jabe Powell was believed the chairman. elected Secretary, and J. G. Moved that when this meeting adourn, it be for three weeks from this evening, when the committee shall report by-laws and regulations, and in the meantime procure speak-ers to address the Club at that time. "That Tribute," etc.

ED. REPUBLICAN - Mr. Sanders "intellectually and as a gentleman of good judgment and fine discrimination second to no one in this section of the State," has written for publication in the Era an article entitled a "Tribute of Respect," which appears to be a culogy on the editor of that delectable sheet, which is all very well and in order, I suppose, although it smacks somewhat of the "you tickle me and I'll tickle you" style; as the leading editorial, headed "That Tribute," lauds Mr. Sanders to the skies, and is followed by a Tribute of Respect of nearly two colunns, the burden of which is to praise the Era's editor and attempt to show that said editor is the author of the "new departure." He quotes from an address to the Republicans of Andrew County, attributing it to the Tribune, then the Republican organ of this county: "in the city of Savannan, by strategy and the aid of Democrats, the disaffected have obtained control of the New Era, and with a pugnacious libeller at its head, have turned it upon its former friends, as artillery captured from the enemy, are belching forth the low billingsgate, vituperation and slander against all who may stand by the principles of their party and its organization, and moreover they are resorting to every means within their power, whether fair or foul, honest or dishonest, to form a political organization disguised by the name of National Union Re-publican party. They know the Dem-ocratic party is dead, and its festerina carcass is a stench in the nostrils of all union men. The Democrats are not to be trusted.' "You were charged with an avowed intention of disorganizing the Republican party and or-

Is it not true that the name of J. A. Sanders is appended to the address, signed by his own hand? Is it not also true that the same J. A. Sanders circulated the address containing these false (?) assertions in Rochester township, and obtained more names to the same than any other one man in the county? These are plain questions.

he seems to have changed glasses, for he sees in another light.

Again, Mr. Sanders, did you at the Sanders House in St. Joseph, in the summer or fall of 1870, on your return from Vermont, declare that you was bitterly opposed to the amendments, and denounce the Brown movement as uncalled for, and declare to Mr. Fabruary Kinds celare to Mr. Edward Kinley you would support the regular Republican nominees? When did site scales fall from your eyes? When did this new light dawn upon you? MONROE.

CASTLE, July 23, 1872.

Our School.

SAVANNAH, July 25, 1872. ED. REPUBLICAN-I have learned that our School Board are contemplating the employment of teachers for the ensuing year within a short time. From conversation with a number of the largest taxpayers in the district, I am convinced that such action will not be generally approved by the tax-payers and others interested in the welfare of the schools.-They truthfully urge the following in opposition: Our school building is not completed, with not much probability that it will be before cold weather sets in.

If the teachers are employed at presen it keeps them from engaging in other schools, or going into other business, and it would not be just to throw them out of a winter's employment without compen-sation. Therefore, I think, as also do a good number of tax-payers, that it would be much better, not only for the district, but also for the teachers, to defer action in this matter until some more definite time for commencing the schools can be stood as easting any reflections on the contractors, for I believe that—the weather and Providence permitting they will complete the house in time; but we can not control the weather. A FRIEND OF EDUCATION.

The bare possibility of Greeley during the war, have for several years been settling down to a fair and perlerstood that the constant and gradterprises, in manufacturing and com-merce, are loth to invite the financial disturbances that would inevitably come with Greeley's accession to the Presidency.

The opposition to the coalition ticket from this quarter is assuming a decided and formidable shape, and the ending commercial and financial journals of the country are giving voice to the united sentiment of the thinking portion of our business men. New York Financier, an ably edited and widely circulated paper, published in Wall street, does not fully agree with Mr. Bout well in his financial policy, but, when presented with the al-ternative of continuing it for four years longer or taking tireelly with his crude and nonsensical notions of finance, so full of his characteristic in-consistencies, it does not hesitate to pronounce in favor of Grant. It redebt and resuming specie invunent, which he has urged with such persis-tency in the Tribune for several years, as being about as absurd as his war policy in 1861, when he was bellowing, "On to Richmond," In answer to Greeley's declaration that the government can safely resume with $38,090,000 gold in the Treasury, and $337, 000,000 of legal tender outstanding and that the "run" for redemption would be only spasmodic and tempocontrary, the reacomption would be spasmodic and temporary, and among the crowd besieging the Treasury door would probably be found these very people. Sundry business men' 'resumed,' some months ago, paying silver in change, as an advertising device; and the silver was sought, cause everybody knew that it would not return to their tills, If the Treasury should resume there is no belief that it could continue to redeem; hence it would shortly be forced to suspend again.'

But besides its objections to Mr. Greeley's specie payment notion, the Finance expresses the belief and fears of thousands of honest Democrats when it says that his election "would result in foisting into office crowds of camp followers, very hungry from long-enforced abstinence, that will outdo those now in possession of the leading places if possible." The good nature, simplicity and open-heartedness of Mr. Greeley's supporters speak in such enthusiastic terms, utterly disqualify him for resisting the im-portunities of these half-starved hordes of adventurers, and a distribution of the federal patronage under his administration would be the most men will agree with the Financier in saying that, while Greeley may not sully his own fingers with theft, he is nevertheless "consenting unto" metals and saying that the saying the saying that the saying that the saying the saying that the saying the saying the saying the saying that the saying perfect travesty upon sivil service re-form that could be conceived.
